MTT Know Before You Go

Saturday October 24 2026 | 18-max | Two tables | 50,000 starting chips

DOORS OPEN	CARDS IN THE AIR	PIZZA ARRIVES
12:30 PM	1:00 PM	~5:30 PM

Arrive ready to play

Early payment appreciated. Entry is $50: $40 prize pool + $10 bounty. Pizza is $15 per person joining dinner, paid separately. Dinner: 5:30-6:15 PM. Red can chase draws; Mike should not have to chase payments.

Parking: The driveway is fine. Please consider the neighbors and leave enough room for cars to pass.

Running late? Check in with Mike when you arrive. No stack is seated or blinded down before you arrive and payment is confirmed. Late entry, rebuys and reloads close after Level 11 (about 6:40 PM).

Bounty rules for this MTT

Your first entry includes a bounty. You will receive a Schnazzy "ALL-IN/Bounty Plaque." These are your receipts for collecting bounty payouts at the end of the night. On each rebuy, you may opt in to the $10 bounty or opt out. Tell Mike your choice before resuming play; eligibility follows your current entry.

Your current entry	Player you eliminate	Bounty result
Opted in	Has a $10 bounty	You collect $10
Opted out	Has a $10 bounty	$10 goes to the winner fund
Opted In or Out	Has Opted Out	No Bounty Paid (No Blood from Rocks)

Opting back in: Eligibility resumes on that new entry; earlier forfeitures stay in the winner fund. Collected bounties stay yours. If you opt back in, you will get a new Schnazzy Plaque with your fresh chip stack.

Forfeited money: All forfeitures go only to the eventual winner as extra prize money, even if the winner opted out. The winner also keeps the bounty on their surviving entry, if they bought one.

Orphaned Bounty Policy

If you have opted out and bust someone with a Schnazzy Bounty Chip, hand said Schnazzy chip to Mike for bookkeeping and winner prize money allocation.

MTT Blind Structure

50,000 starting chips | 25-minute levels | Level 21 is 60 minutes

Ante: From Level 6, the big blind pays one table ante equal to the small blind. At 200/400, that is 200 ante + 400 big blind.

Before dinner

Level	SB	BB	Ante	Entries Left^
1	50	100	0	18
2	75	150	0	18
3	100	200	0	18
4	125	250	0	18

21	50,000	100,000	50,000	2

^ NOT Rocket Science (Sorry, NASA AL). It just assumes 18 entries and 8 rebuys, based on ~18 months of play and AI guesswork. Green shading marks estimated payout territory: six players left or fewer.

 Level 12: Late entry, rebuys and reloads are closed. Before then, a reload is available at 10,000 chips or fewer (20% of the starting stack).

Table moves: Merge to one table when nine players remain. Mike, with the help of the tournament software, balances tables and assigns moves; the merge follows the player count, not a scheduled level.

Prize money and chops

Top six paid. 6th receives $40. After reserving that $40, places 1-5 receive 38% / 24% / 16% / 12% / 10% of the remaining regular prize pool. Bounties stay separate; the forfeiture fund is an extra winner-only prize. Any chop requires every remaining player to agree and Mike to confirm the prize and bounty accounting.

Keep the action moving

Act in turn. Verbal declarations bind; announce raises before moving chips and avoid string bets. A silent oversized chip facing a bet is a call. Short all-ins do not automatically reopen raising.

Protect your cards and show your chips. Keep large denominations visible. When all-in and no further betting is possible, all live hands go face up. Try to keep stacks countable to help with all-in calculations and chip transfer. With two tables, clock pausing is not likely unless there is a real "Moment of Chaos" - which is entirely possible with this group. But... let's try to avoid that. The Commish thanks you in advance.

One player to a hand. No coaching or live-hand discussion. Keep phones off the felt and follow the house phone rule. If something goes wrong, stop and call Mike. Hiro may offer commentary; Mike makes the ruling.
